A CARD.

To the Voters of Crittenden County:

I am a candidate for re-election to the office of Circuit Court Clerk. Deeply grateful to you for what you have done for me in the past I earnestly solicit your support again if you have found me worthy and competent I have used every exertion to discharge the duties of the office with credit to myself and satisfaction to you. In the discharge of my official duties I have made no distinction on account of politics, condition or race, but have endeavored always to treat all men exactly alike.

If re-elected I can only pledge you that I will as earnestly and conscientiously strive during the next term to meet every requirement of the place as I have in the past.

Believing I can serve you acceptably I want to assure you that I will heartily appreciate the support of every one.

Your obedient servant,
H. A. HAYNES.

A Card from Mr. Truitt.

To the People of Crittenden County: I most heartily thank those who have already honored me, and assure all that, whatever the result may be, such an expression of confidence will never be forgotten. I will greatly appreciate the support of all in the approaching election, and should I be chosen your Assessor, my utmost endeavor and greatest hope will be to make you a capable, faithful officer. I shall endeavor to see all in person and in the meantime remember that I am a candidate and that no one will hold your support in higher regard. Your obedient servant,
J. H. TRUITT.

To the Voters of Crittenden County.

the earnest solicitation of my friends from all political parties, and in the meantime having received the nomination of my party, I do very willingly announce that I am a candidate for re-election to the office of county court clerk, and if elected, promise you a faithful discharge of the duties of said office. I feel that the duties of said office, if you have shown me in the past, and I trust that no official or other act of mine has caused any one to regret the interest you have so manifested in my behalf in the past; and should you, by your influence and vote at the next November election, again favor me with said office, I will appreciate the favor as much as possible for man to do, and will use my best endeavors to make you a faithful and efficient officer, showing no distinction or partiality to any one on account of politics, position, creed or color. Your obdt servt and friend, D. WOODS.

It is always gratifying to receive testimonials for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy, and when the endorsement is from a physician it is especially so. "There is no more satisfactory or effective remedy than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy," writes Dr. R. E. Robey, physician and pharmacist, of Oney, Missouri, and as he has used the remedy in his own family and sold it in his drug store for 6 years he should certainly know. At Orme's.

THE YELLOW FEVER.

A Reminiscence of Dr. Luke P. Blackburn's Heroic Fight at Hickman.

The recent outbreak of yellow fever in the south recalls a chapter in political history which grew out of the invasion of the country by the terrible scourge in 1897, writes Sam M. Burdett in the Chicago Chronicle. But for that epidemic it is not at all probable that Dr. Luke P. Blackburn would have been elected Governor of Kentucky the following year. The Doctor himself always insisted that the office was bestowed upon him by a grateful people as a reward for doing his professional duty at a critical period.

The plague first appeared at New Orleans early in the summer of 1878 and gradually made its way up the Mississippi river. Natchez, Vicksburg and Memphis were swept by its ravages, and almost everybody in Kentucky expected that it would get a foothold in Louisville. The people of that city were terror stricken, and were preparing to abandon their homes, when they were assured by Dr. Blackburn through the public press that they were in no danger. The Doctor declared in the most positive way that the fever would not reach Louisville. He said it would probably make its appearance in the towns along the Mississippi river, but he promised to confine it to those localities.

Sure enough there came a report one day that a case of yellow fever had developed at Hickman, Ky. Hickman was a town of about 1,000 population, on the Mississippi river, in the extreme southwestern corner of the State. Within twenty-four hours after the disease had made its appearance Dr. Blackburn arrived at Hickman accompanied by a corps of assistants and trained nurses. By the time he reached there a score of persons were down with the fever.

During the next two weeks there was exhibited at Hickman one of the most remarkable struggles between science and disease that is known in medical history. Fully two thirds of the population of the little town were stricken with the fever and at least 75 per cent of the cases proved fatal. Dr. Blackburn was on duty at almost all hours of the day and night, directing the work that was being done to check the ravages of the plague and to relieve the afflicted ones.

Many of the assistant physicians and trained nurses who went with him to Hickman became victims of the fever, but there was always a fresh recruit ready to take any place made vacant on his staff. In the end Dr. Blackburn and science triumphed. The fever never got any further north than Hickman and the doctor did not abandon the field of battle until he had effectually stamped out the disease.

When he returned to Louisville he was given a great ovation. He was the hero of the hour and it is not surprising that Kentucky sentiment should suggest the idea of honoring him politically. The next year he was elected Governor of the state by a large majority.

Before he had been six months in office Dr. Blackburn gave the people of Kentucky a shock by pardoning 600 convicts who were confined in the State penitentiary. The pardons were all issued at the same time, and the governor's action, of course, created a sensation. Upon investigation, however, the people came to the conclusion that he had done right. When Dr. Blackburn assumed office as governor he found 1800 convicts in the penitentiary, which had accommodations for only 1,000. On account of the crowded condition it was necessary to confine two prisoners in more than half of the cells. The governor called the attention of the legislature to this matter, which he declared was a disgrace to the State. The general Assembly took no steps to improve the situation and the governor, after waiting a reasonable time, resolved the problem by pardoning 600 prisoners. His action started an agitation for enlarged prison facilities, and before the end of the session the legislature passed an act to provide for a branch penitentiary.

Then they held a meeting and instructed three of their number to go to Springfield and meet Gen Palmer, who had wired them that he would assist them in an effort to secure in the federal court a mandamus compelling the city authorities to permit the negroes to attend school with the white children.

The negroes insisted that the law is on their side and flatly refuse to send their children to the school built for them.

LETTER FROM TEXAS.

DETROIT, TEX., Sept. 19, '97.

ED PRESS: It takes more than time and distance for a native to forget "Old Crittenden." Indeed, the farther one goes, and the longer one stays away, the stronger grows the charm of her rugged cliffs and rippling streams, and more sacred her homes and people. Thanks to its editor, the PRESS is read by many of her prodigal sons. Every issue is a beacon light, and cited on our "native beach," and we see our friends on duty there "as we view the landscape afar."

As I read the last number of your paper I thought of many old scenes and friendly faces that were pictured on my memory in other days. One was the old school house at Olive Branch, with its rocky ball ground, and old log "fox dens" we used to build.

Dear Editor, let me name some of our teachers—no time for a pleasant sketch—name them for memory's sake. As I do so I think of each kind face and the noble efforts made to shape the destinies of the memorable boys and girls who jumped the branches, climbed the hills and waded the snow to reach that school house.

James Wolff, now State Senator in Nevada; Rev. J. F. Price, who has gone more for the moral welfare of the county than any other man living; Pamie J. Houston, now of Tennessee; Rev. J. N. Woodside; S. E. Moore, in Heaven; Elmer Stewart, (Price); R. H. Dean; Mary Crawford (Dean); Miss Wheeler, now County Superintendent, who worked up a great interest in educational lines outside the regular school work. The men she employed afterwards to instruct the institutes in Crittenden are known to the people, to the cause, and to her office. I doubt the ability of another person in the county to fill the position next term so well as Miss Wheeler.

We had the best teachers at Olive Branch and good people to attend the Stewarts, the Woods, the Newmans, the Clarks, the Pickets, the Lambos, the McCollins, the Walkers, the Gibbons, the Reynolds, the Roberts, the Wheelers, the Harts, the Wilbourns, the Drennans, the Hills, the Deboes, the Farleys, the Towers, the Hursts, the Davises and the Deans—all went to school there.

I learn through the PRESS of my school mates at Marion, Charles E. and Frank Newcom are at the head of that school now. Harry McCasney Superintendent of Livingston county, El Franks deputy collector of revenue, Nathan McCaslev a Representative in Missouri; Jesse Crawford a well paid clerk at Washington, and Ollie James a candidate for Congress, with the brakes all off.

Trusting that a friend who has heretofore voted wrong will put a ticket in for R. C. Walker, I shall be partially repaid for losing this privilege at the coming election.

Tiger Eating Natives.

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 23.—Chinese advisers say that much excitement prevails about Fox Chow over the killing of many natives at Kuliang by man eating tigers, who have carried off and eaten many natives. Hundreds have fled to near by cities for protection. Expert hunters have killed some of the beasts, but many more have come down from the mountains.

MUST ACT ON CUBA AT ONCE.

IF THE PRESIDENT DOESN'T, MEMBERS OF CONGRESS WILL.

Representative Livingston is Authority for this Last Report.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—"The President does not take some action favorable to Cuba by December, then we, the members of Congress, will recognize its independence and at the beginning of the session at that."

Representative Livingston, of Atlanta, a Democrat and a member of the minority, spoke thus, but he voiced the sentiment of the majority in the Lower House. Continuing, he said:

"I have seen all the members of the House who have been in Washington within the past month, and each one, irrespective of what party he may be long to, is in favor of bringing the war to a close. Of course the Republican members are not going about shouting these opinions from the housetops, but when we talk the situation over among ourselves, the conclusion generally reached is that early next spring this cruel war will be over."

"There will be a dozen different ways to get the question up in the House, and once up, there will be very few who will have the hardihood to vote against resolutions of independence. The more radical these resolutions are the better, for there seems to be a belief that sooner or later we have got to have trouble with Spain, so I favor, and so do those with whom I have talked, getting in the first kick in the resolutions."

"There is no us trying to play diplomacy with Spain, for she is more than our match at that. The only thing to do now, and I verily believe it is what will be done as soon as Congress meets, is to pass resolutions recognizing the absolute independence of Cuba; and then if the President desires to veto them; the blame must be on the administration and not on the American people."

"BRUTAL, UNPROVOKED MASSACRE."

The American Federation of Labor Thus Denounces the Hazelton Horror

Washington, Sept. 23.—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor adopted resolutions today in this city declaring the shooting of miners by the deputies at Lattimer, Pa., to be a "brutal, unprovoked massacre, inspired by the coal operators of that section to defeat the demands of their men for better conditions." The council also resolved to help with money in the legal prosecution of the deputies under Sheriff Martin.

That the water of the sea contains gold, among other metals, is perhaps well known. According to Font Savor, quoted by the Revue Scientifique, which gives a summary of the data that have been obtained in regard to this subject, Staudt in 1872 reached the conclusion, which has been confirmed more recently by Munster, that the "briny deep" contains about one grain of this metal to the ton of water. One grain is not much, but this figure has its value when we take into consideration the immense extent of the ocean, which as a whole would contain at this estimate a total of 10,250,000,000 tons of gold. This latter is found in the state of iodide and the iodide that enters into the combination would amount to something like 4,428,800,000,000 tons.—Scientific American.

SALINAS TO MONTEREY

The Beet Sugar Industry in California—A Resort Hotel that Accommodates Two Thousand Guests.

DEAR EDITOR: In making the journey by the public highway from Salinas to Monterey, California, the oldest town in the State, the traveler makes an ox-bow, going twenty miles to get twelve, as the crow flies. The country is not thickly settled. Some good farms, but the houses are long distances apart, and I have seen better roads. Barley is the principal crop, but all the farmers in this locality are preparing to raise the sugar beet on a large scale. Claus Spreckles is the leading spirit in a company that has been organized, which has broken ground for a giant beet root factory at Salinas, and the farmers heretofore have gone into ecstasies over what they believe is to result in the salvation of the country. They tell me that sugar can be made for two cents per pound and leave a profit to the grower of the beets. All along the public highway I noticed patches of sugar beets. The factory, which will be the largest in the world, will not be finished for two years, and the farmers are only experimenting now in the raising of the vegetable, which they think is soon to sweeten the entire world.

A great many ladies drive in this country, and the vehicle most used is the car. As we near the ocean the winds are not so strong. Years ago, when the roads were laid out here, the early settlers very thoughtfully planted a great many eucalyptus trees for shade. They are a beautiful tree, straight, tall, graceful, and the balsamic odor they emit is fragrant and soothing, and it is said that the trees absorb malarial poisoning.

The last six miles of the drive to Monterey is full of interest. The public highway leads over a mountain the summit of which has an elevation of about 1500 feet. The view from the summit is magnificent. Spread out before me was the sea five miles off, and close to the beach is the old, old town of Monterey, and to the north a mile is Hotel del Monte, one of the finest hostleries on the continent. Indeed it is a veritable paradise. The grounds contain over one hundred acres, and no expense has been spared in beautifying them. Nearly every kind of rare fruiting, foliage and flowering plant, shrub and tree that grow may here be found. Side by side is the rough native pines and the Brazilian species. In one circular plot I noticed more than fifty varieties of cacti, and a score of century plants in blossom. The flowers are indescribably lovely. There are solid hedges of poppies—the wild and cultivated species side by side—hedges of calla lilies all in blossom so dense and rug ged and tall that the plants themselves would almost turn stock, and then near by as if to dwarf by comparison, was a great bed of moss pink in bloom, a perfect wilderness of rich, variegated blossoms. The porches of this hotel were a bower of roses, the vines, or trees more properly, for they were four and five inches in diameter, and around the balustrades so ingeniously that the effect was strikingly beautiful.

The drives about the grounds are winding gravel ways among the trees, and plants and shrubbery, and many a one not acquainted with them has been lost while attempting to thread his way out of the mazy depths of these wonderful grounds. The hotel is a wooden structure, with a capacity for caring for something like 2,000 guests, and the appointment it seems to me is well nigh perfect. The rate is from $4 to $20 per day, and the service is not equaled on the coast. It is open all the year, and the guests come from nearly every country on the two continents.

South one mile is Monterey, with many of its old adobe buildings still standing, and two miles farther is Pacific Grove, the Chatsqua of California. This is a most commanding peninsula, with a beach drive of twenty-eight miles, which probably has no equal in the United States. It was built and is maintained by the management of Hotel del Monte, and for nearly the entire distance one is in sight of the ocean, and in some places close to the beach. There are more points of interest than I can here enumerate. The Seal rocks attract great crowds of sightseers. These ugly, clumsy monsters climb upon the rocks, which are very near the beach, and swim and sport in the surf the live long day, and are never molested; the beach is covered with shells innumerable, pretty mosses and kelp and beautiful pebbles, and every wave reveals something new and interesting to the visitor.

Inspiration point and cypress point are two prominent points which give magnificent views. Ex-President Harrison made this journey on his trip through California in 1891, and pronounced it a picturesque and inspiring beyond description. The roar of the billows, the plaintive cry of the sea fowl, as they wing their way slowly past, the moaning of the sea lion, and the moaning of the whistling buoys, combine to make a deep and lasting impression on the visitor.

Grain Exports.

A fleet of forty-eight ocean going vessels, laden with full or part cargoes of grain, is now at sea, bound from Baltimore to European ports. It is one of the largest, if not the largest number of vessels ever bound from an American port at the same time. Each vessel is carrying from 50,000 to 150,000 bushels of grain. The export of grain record for the month has already been broken, as about 5,000,000 bushels of wheat, corn and rye are now about for England, Germany, France, Norway, Belgium, Ireland, Scotland and Holland. During the same period of time seventeen other steamers have sailed and arrived at their destinations. There are now in port loading full or part cargoes, of grain, fourteen steamers, including the Knight Bachelor, of 4,092 tons, and which will take away the largest cargo of grain which has ever left Baltimore.

Silver is going up and what is going down just now.

The administration don't seem to know where it is at on the Cuban question.

George Winston will be hanged at Paducah Nov. 19, for the murder of a woman.

W. H. Brian Dictator of Knights of Honor, died at his home in Paducah Monday.

Shall the banks or shall the people through Congress supply and control the currency? That's the question.

According to reports from all portions of the district O. H. James will be the next congressman from the old Gibraltar.

Back Kilgore, who kicked open the door of the House of Representatives during the first Reed congress, is dead.

Judge Cantrell, of the Frankfort circuit court, holds that it is the duty of the Legislature and not the courts, to investigate the penitentiary mismanagements.

Mr. Bryan has been speaking in Iowa, and the immense crowds that gather to hear him remind one of the great campaign of last year. Free silver nor Bryan are neither dead.

The firm intention of the administration to take no chances in carrying out its programme for the annexation of the Hawaiian Islands have been emphasized in an order issued by the navy department, assigning another war ship to the waters of Hawaii.

The news of a recent successful raid on Santiago de Cuba by the insurgents, has just leaked out. The town was captured and valuable supplies secured. The Cubans did not attempt to hold the town, because of the threatened bombardment by a Spanish gunboat.

According to John Clark Rodpath, the historian, the people have paid $2,500,000,000 in interest alone on the public debt. That is about $30 for every man, woman and child in the country today. Do you want to keep paying this big interest account if so, stand by the bankers' financial policy. A great many people in this country know how interest will in the end consume the individual's earnings; on a larger scale the same thing is occurring to the nation.

The Candidates Speak.

Saturday Gray and Grassham, candidates for commonwealth's attorney, and Judges Nunn and Pratt, candidates for circuit judge, addressed the people at this place.

Mr. Grassham spoke first, stating that he was a National Democrat, and not a Republican, but that the Republicans had endorsed him. He said that Gray had not always been a silver man, and took the position that silver people should not vote for his opponent. Mr. Grassham said that he was for the gold standard and then threw bouquets at the silver people. He presented his claims in a pretty good speech for a man who is neither a Democrat nor a Republican, but playing for votes from both gold standard Republicans and free silver Democrats and Populists.

Mr. Gray announced that he was the free silver Democratic nominee; he asked the people to review his record and if they found he had been faithful and efficient, not vote for his opponent. Mr. Grassham said that he was a free silver man, and was one in the last campaign, that he made speeches for Bryan over this judicial circuit. He said Mr. Grassham made speeches for Hardin in 1895, was "too good" to vote for McKinley in 1896, but he was not "too good" to ask Republicans to vote for him this year. He said Mr. Grassham was too big to be an ordinary local Democrat, like other Democrats in this section, but was a big NATIONAL Democrat. Mr. Gray's friends were delighted with the result of the speaking.

Judge Pratt made a speech presenting his claims; his speech was somewhat like his charges to the grand jury, a discourse upon government. It was pleasantly delivered and he seemed to eschew politics.

Judge Nunn made a strong argument for bimetalism, and said that politics was but the science of government, and no man belittled himself in taking an interest in these public questions. That every man ought to study them, and be able to advise the people on the issues, that Judge Breathitt, a Republican did so in his canvass; that Judge Givens, a gold standard man, did so, and he thought Judge Pratt should state his views; while office was non-partisan, the men who filled all the offices were full of politics, and Judge Pratt with the rest. He asked Judge Pratt to state how he stood on the currency question, on the income tax, etc.

In his rejoinder Judge Pratt said that he was a Republican, and that Judge Nunn ought to know what that meant.

TRAVIS REUNION.

Members of One of the Oldest and Largest Families in the County Meet.

One of the oldest, most highly respected and largest families in Crittenden county, is the Travis family. Some weeks ago the idea of a reunion of this family was conceived by one of its younger members and the suggestion was adopted; Friday Sept. 24, was the time selected, and Coppers Spring, six miles east of Marion, was the place selected. A programme was arranged, and an invitation was extended to a number of the family to spend the day with them. Accordingly last Friday more than four hundred people gathered at the famous old spring, and rarely have a more enjoyable day been spent in this county. About three hundred of those present were members of the Travis family, and the heavy handshakes, the sparkling eyes—here and there among the older ones bedimmed with tears—was an inspiration to guests and hosts alike. Under the shades of giant oaks—which had perhaps sprung from an acorn since the Traxes settled there—the people gathered. First came a song, then a prayer, and then Rev. J. F. Price in a feeling and appropriate address stated the object of the meeting. Then were more songs. At noon a bountiful dinner was spread, and never was Kentucky hospitality more completely shown, and never did Kentucky's larger more richly endowed table. After two hours of eating and greeting—hours that will long brighten the memory of all present—the gathering was called to order. After a song, Uncle Harvey Travis, the patriarch of the present generation, briefly stated the genealogy of the family. He said:

"My grandfather came from Ireland to America in 1793; he was a weaver by trade, and while he followed his calling, my mother was a farmer and managed the farm. They settled at Coppers Spring, where we, their descendants, now greet each other, in 1805. They attended church at Dickey spring, and are buried in the old cemetery there. My grandmother's maiden name was Salie Jarrold. They raised eleven children; John T., who went to Illinois; Francis, who moved to Missouri; Wm., who went to Illinois; Thomas T., who went to Louisiana; Daniel, who went to Missouri; and James, who remained here, and who was my father. The girls were Polly, who married a Young; Sallie, who married a Dolan; Rachel, who married a Hunter; and went to Indiana; Betsy, who married an Alexander and moved to Tennessee; and Sibbie, who married a Foster. James Travis, my father, married Rachael Blakely. Their children were John, Daniel, Theresa, Frances, Lindsay, Susan and myself. John, Daniel and Frank are dead. Theresa married a Crider, and after his death a Price—father of Bio. Jimmie Price, who is with us today. Susan married W. J. Brantly, who is one of us today. My mother was the daughter of John Blakely, who was brought from Ireland at the breast. My great grandfather was a soldier in the Revolutionary army; my grandfather Blakely was a soldier in the war of 1812."

Uncle Harvey Travis is now 81 years old; he was somewhat feeble Friday. He had seventeen children, fourteen of whom are living. Miss Mina Wheeler read a paper on "Characteristics of Grandmother Travis," familiarly known as "Aunt" Rachael. Such a strong pen likeness was the paper of the sainted old woman, that those who knew her in her lifetime could see her in the touching, simple words of the writer. Later the paper will be printed in the Press.

There were appropriate recitations and songs by the little children Silvia Alvatine and Vernie Travis, and Ida and Sylvan Price. After the programme had been completed, devotional exercises were held, and some of the most earnest and ablest prayers went up to God from that place. Many and fervent testimonials were given. That of "Uncle" Harvey's melted every listener to tears; he said that he had been serving God for 62 years, and each year found him happier in the service, and that as he neared the end, and approached his eternal home his anxiety to enter therein grew greater. The old man spoke feebly at first but soon his eyes seemed to gleam with the fires of immortality and he grew vigorous, and as he stood in the shade of the oaks, his gray locks hanging down well towards his shoulders, surrounded by two generations of his own people, his voice grew strong, his words flowed in a rich, mellow stream, laden with the precious memories of the past, and freighted with the glorious hopes of the future, there was a fascination in the face of the old man that drew hearts near to him as he seemed to draw near the warm, balmy air, and the bright, gleaming lights of the celestial city.

"Age sits with decent grace upon his visage, And worthily becomes his silvery locks. He bears the marks of many years well spent. Of virtue, truth well tried, and wise experience."

A new political organization has been started in Ohio known as the Negro Protective party. They have organized and nominated a State ticket in Ohio, composed entirely of colored men. The platform declares that the time has arrived when the best interests of the negro race call for independent action. Their party device is a picture of Abraham Lincoln. It is an oath bound organization and its declared purpose is protect the negroes in all of their just rights.

A Majority for the Drys. Saturday Livingston county voted on the local option question and local option carried by a large majority.

The Legend of Flyn's Ferry Road as printed in the Press some years ago, was read by Rev. James F. Price. A revision of this descriptive tale of Indian warfare, will be republished in these columns shortly.

At the Travis reunion the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That we express our sincere gratitude to the committee which arranged the enjoyments of this day, its comforts and its music.

We express our highest appreciation for the presence of so many of our friends, and hope that the chain of friendship may be the brighter and stronger for this meeting.

We express our most earnest thanks to our many friends who gave us liberally of their bounties for the noon table hour.

Sunday School Convention.

Of Ohio River Association will meet with Clear Springs Baptist church, Shade Grove, Ky. October 29, 30, 31, 1897, at 10 o'clock, a. m. After organization of the convention the following programme will be taken up:

1. Report on Sunday school work in the Association, Eld J S Henry, Cam district board. Discussion of report by convention.

2. Report on Sunday school institution in our bounds, Elds T C Carter and E M Eason.

3. Influence of Sunday schools on church life, home life, social life, Eld B F Taylor and J P Pierce.

4. Duties of the officers of the church as to the Sunday school, Eld W R Gibbs, Dr Todd.

Educational Association.

In view of the fact that the Teachers Association cannot meet with us often we the teachers in the northern part of the county wish to organize an association to work in connection with the Teachers Association, but to meet every two weeks in such districts as seem most convenient to a majority of the members. Our first meeting will be held at the Colon school house Friday evening, Oct. 8, at 7:30. The following programme will be given:

Invocation, C B Hims.
Purpose of the Association, Alice Griffith.

Report on current events, R M Allen.

Recitation, selected, Maggie Franks.
Oration, "Roman Customs," E S Moore.

Essay, "Rocks," Mrs Lillie Flansary.

Recitation, Annie Clark.

Paper, latest discoveries in science, J Watts Lamb.

Talk, the outlook in Alaska, C B Hims.

We cordially invite every one to attend, but we especially urge every teacher who is in reach to come to our first meeting.

Committee on Programme—E. S. Moore, J. Watts Lamb, Alice Griffith.

It is announced the State will not be able to pay the school fund the 40 per cent. due Oct. 1. The treasurer and superintendent of public instruction have figured the matter out and announce that only about $360,000 will be available for this fund at that time, or less than 20 per cent of that amount. This is caused by the failure of the county sheriffs to pay in the amounts collected for taxes. They are given by law until December 2, to flush paying the year's taxes, and a great many of them hold out till the last few days before settling.

A new political organization has been started in Ohio known as the Negro Protective party. They have organized and nominated a State ticket in Ohio, composed entirely of colored men. The platform declares that the time has arrived when the best interests of the negro race call for independent action. Their party device is a picture of Abraham Lincoln. It is an oath bound organization and its declared purpose is protect the negroes in all of their just rights.

A Majority for the Drys. Saturday Livingston county voted on the local option question and local option carried by a large majority.

Others May Blow, BUT Goods Will SHOW.

J. P. Pierce has the best Grain and Fertilizer Drill ever brought to the county. So say all who have seen them. Come and see for yourself.

J. P. Pierce still handles the old reliable HOMESTEAD and CLEVELAND DRYER FERTILIZERS. It always pays to get the best. Cheap stuff is always dear.

QUICK WORK.

Rape Followed by Rape in Hancock County.

Hawesville, Ky., Sept. 26—Raymond Bushrod, a twenty year old negro, was hanged by a mob here this evening. In broad daylight, on the Sabbath evening, in the court square, without a pistol shot or any signs of drunkenness, the ravisher of womanhood paid the penalty of his enormous crime. Yesterday Bushrod met a sweet, pure, sixteen year old girl who was outraged and beaten almost to death by the brute. He was caught, identified, confessed and given a few moments to pray. A rope was placed around his neck and the other end was thrown over a limb, and when the word was given willing hands pulled. There were no masks and no disguise.

EMMAUS.

Prayermeeting at Emmaus every Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. Brethren push the good work along, for this neighborhood is sadly in need of spiritual revolution.

Albert Butler and wife gave the young folks an entertainment Sunday evening of last week.

Ed Brasher is seriously ill with pneumonia and typhoid fever, and his death is expected at any moment. Tom McKinney has been indisposed for the past week or so.

Mrs. Sarah Brown, of Lola, spent last week with friends and relatives in this section.

Misses Jennie Wheeler and Mauda Campbell attended church at Emmaus the third Sunday.

Marion Wring has purchased the Graves farm, and will probably move to it about Christmas.

Rev. Kinsolving is a happy father—another son.

Miss Alma Hodge returned last week from a prolonged visit near Hampton.

Elm Grove Sunday school suspended work Sunday.

Mrs. Nannie Humphrey has been on the invalid list for the past week.

The singing at Lan Travis' Sunday evening was a most enjoyable affair.

J. C. Kinsolving's absence from prayermeeting meant a new addition to his family.

Mrs. Garner, of Lyon county has been in our midst for the past two weeks.

Oklahoma is preparing for another series of meetings.

The prevailing drouth has suspended plowing and rendered wheat sowing almost impossible.

The Salem precinct deserves much credit for the position she took against the liquor question.

CARRSVILLE.

Mr. Phil Miles, of Crittenden has moved into our town.

Dwelling houses are in demand at this place. There have been several parties looking for houses that they may get the advantage of our school.

Our school, under the management of Prof. C. C. Howard, has improved until it is not surpassed by any in the county, and it continues to grow both in interest and in number.

Last Saturday on the whisky question, Carrsville's vote stood 122 against whisky, and 36 for it. So you see we want less whisky and more education.

The speaking here on the 18th was simply immense. I was one of those good old days when every one enjoys himself, regardless of politics. Hon. Ward Headley delivered a straight forward speech. He shot close to the mark and there were no blank cartridges, and as to Hon. Ollie M. James' there is no use trying to tell what kind of a speech he made, for his name suggests the character of his speech, and when he gets down here where every one is for free silver and every one is proud to see him, and he is proud to see every one we have a regular free feast.

Our free silver club will meet Monday night, Oct. 4th, and we are expecting Mr. Walker to meet with us on that night. Though there will be other speakers present, among whom will be Mr. Lloyd Ward, though young in years he is well posted on the national issues of the day. Every one cordially invited.

A Kentuckian.

MOUNDS.

Mr. Tom Hughes has a child that has been very low for some time.

Rev. Willis Brown and others are holding a protracted meeting at the water mill. They have a tent and are well fixed for the meeting.

Harlow Robinson, our merchant, has ordered a lot of dry goods.

The Memphis mines are in good working order and ten or twelve men at work.

John Terry, of Livingston county, is in our midst.

The trustees of Forest Grove district have decided to dig a cistern at last; a long time; a good decision.

George Robinson has bought the saw mill formerly owned by M. Maines and will move it to Dunns Spring in a short time.

D. Wilborn of Fords Ferry moved to our midst a short time since.

Mrs. Rufus Robinson, of Anora, is visiting relatives in this neighborhood.

Molasses making is a work of the day with many of us. Bud Thurman is the sweetest man as he is the "propeeler"—don't mention beauty.

Farmers are not going to get in much of a wheat crop.

John James, our well known sawyer, has his mill on Will Orr's farm, and he is doing some good work.

It any of the fair daughters of Crittenden want to engage in a nuptial ceremony, just at present, just let Clarence Terry know it.

NEW SALEM.

Mr. Wm Chip and family of Bay Mills were the guests of W C Tyner's family Sunday.

Judge T J Nunn, states attorney Grayot, R C Walker and Capt Yeats paid our section a call last week, asking the good people to remember them Nov. 2.

Phil Travis and sister, Miss Mira, of Emmaus, paid our section a visit last week.

No rain in our section yet. Our farmers are greatly discouraged over the prospect of getting a wheat crop in, as not more than 50 per cent of the wheat land is broken and should a good seasonable rain fall at this time it will make sowing very late.

W J LaRue, E H Taylor and T A Harpending have each sown a few acres of wheat, all that has been sown in this section.

W C Tyner and wife were in Paducah all last week.

Wood Baker, formerly of this section but now of Missouri, is visiting relatives hereabout.

John Bebout, of Sheridan, came over to church last Sabbath.

Bro Lowery finished his ministerial labors for the year 1897 for New Salem church on last fourth Sunday. We think the church will succeed in having Bro Lowery preach for us the ensuing year, and we say without fear of contradiction that the church could do no better than in securing his services, for he is beloved by both saint and sinner, and is always at his post ready to do battle for the cause he represents.

Mrs. Marion Davidson Misses Clara Wolford and Emma Harpending, a child of John Paces and one of Jas LaRue's, are all on the sick list and under the care of a doctor.

Mrs. Marion Davidson has diptheria but her doctors say is doing well; as could be expected. There are two or three other cases that our physicians fear will prove to be diptheria.

Our neighborhood is greatly excited over the dread disease in our midst, but our Salem doctors think they will be able to cope with the trouble.

Mrs. Lucinda Eastland and Mrs. Alice Howard of Lamasco were the guests of relatives and friends here the past week.

Miss Nettie George of Hurricane, is the guest of her grandparents, Mr and Mrs E H Taylor.

Jos Pace is at work on his new residence.

Our Levis boys came home Saturday evening with their feathers drooping, they say the ball played out, and they could not finish the game.

Water is at a premium, both for man and beast, many having to haul for miles.

FREDONIA.

Mrs. nee Miss Bennett of Mo, has been visiting relatives and friends in town and vicinity for the past week or two.

Misses Mettie and Bertie Wiggin and Mae Garner have been visiting Mrs H C Turley. Of Order for a week.

Some of the farmers are sowing wheat in corn land, because they could not plow the land they expected to sow.

Ed Turley got his barn and tobacco burned up last week.

Nearly all the cisterns in this section are dry and the atmosphere is so full of dirt for the water to be caught for drinking purposes;

Mrs David Terrill, of Enon, died a week or two since.

It is strange people will grow big tobacco crops and let the frost bite it Mrs J P Halsell has been quite sick for a week or two of fever.

Miss Minnie Guess has been sick for several weeks. She was taken with a congestive chill.

Bugg & Loyd have the best stock of goods in town, and their trade has increased until they have recently employed an assistant to help them wait on their customers. People have found out where they can get the best bargains; hence the rush.

J W Hughes was in town Monday Mrs John Rorer returned Sunday evening from a visit to her sister Mrs Anna Hurt, of Hopkinsville.

A large crowd attended services at the Baptist church last Sunday.

Princeton Presbytery will convene at Good Spring Oct. 5, 1897; dinner served each day at the church. Everybody welcome that comes. Debates coming on the trains should come on the O. V. to Critter on the 7 and 10 o'clock trains Tuesday morning, and they will be met with conveniences to the church. A good programme for the Sunday school Institute Wednesday afternoon.

Buy your coal at once of H E Rice, the price will be one cent per bushel higher when the present lot is disposed of.

Tuesday night of last week the barn of Albert Butler was destroyed by fire. Besides the tobacco, a lot of farming implements were burned.

A Big Revival.

Revs Hodge, Murphy and Hall have been holding a meeting at Glendale ten days. There have been between fifty and sixty conversions Monday night so many people were so deeply interested in the meeting that they spent the night at the school house at worship. There were fourteen conversions that night.

Secured His Certificate.

Mr. R. M. Franks, candidate for circuit court clerk, went to Madisonville Monday and was examined by Judge Pratt touching his qualifications for the office of clerk. The examination was satisfactory and Mr. Franks was given the certificate of qualification. He returned Tuesday and will begin an active canvass.

Will Not Run.

I thought I had already made myself understood relative to the race for circuit court clerk; but it seems from a publication in the Press last week that I had not. Hence I desire to say now, once for all, that I am out of politics, that I am not a candidate for circuit clerk, that I can not do not, and will not accept the nomination. I appreciate the confidence reposed in me, but must decline to accept the nomination.

T. H. Roberts.

Programme

Of the Sunday School Institute to be held in connection with Princeton Presbytery at Good Spring, Ky, on Wednesday afternoon, Oct 6, 1897.

1:30. How may the Sunday school best fulfill its mission, Elder J. S. G. Green.

2:30. The model teacher, his qualifications, preparation and encouragement, Miss Mina Wheeler.

3:30. Best methods of Bible study, Rev J. F. Price.

Each speaker will be allowed thirty minutes, and the same length of time will be given to the general discussion of each topic.

Good Spring Church Session Committee.

Charged with Confederating.

Saturday W. T. Buchanan had warrants issued charging Hugh Wilborn, Bob Wilborn, Dudley Pape and Geo Howell, and four other persons unknown to him with unlawfully confederating and coming to his house and disturbing his family, and taking one Squire Paine out and whipping him. Pape and Howell were in town when the warrants were issued, and they gave themselves up and executed bond. When the Wilborn boys heard of the warrant they came to town and executed bonds.

Examining Trial Postponed.

The examining trial of the parties charged with whipping Coy Walker was set for Tuesday, but on account of the absence of witnesses it was postponed until Oct. 12. Claude Henry executed a $1,000 bond for his appearance and a $1,000 peace bond, and was released from jail. The charges against Tom King were dismissed, as he readily showed that he was at home at the time the deed is said to have been committed. O. Burgess is still in jail.

Boston-Hopewell.

Yesterday at the bride's house at Sturgis Mr. George E. Boston of this place and Miss Nannie K. Hopewell were united in marriage. They went to Nashville yesterday to spend a few days after which they will return to his home at this place.

The bride is a popular young lady, well known in Marion. She is a woman of refinement.

The groom is a well known contractor and builder, and has scores of friends in this county, where he is known and prized as a man and a citizen.

Browning-Bigham.

Wednesday, Sept. 2, 1897, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. R. E. Bigham of Marion, Miss Kittie Bigham and Mr. W. D. Browning were united in marriage, Rev. W. H. Miley officiating. While the wedding was a quiet home affair, the parlor of the pleasant Bigham home was filled with friends of the contracting parties. After the ceremony and congratulations Mr. and Mrs. Browning boarded the train and went to Nashville to spend a few days.

The bride is one of Marion's handsomest young ladies and she is refined and amiable.

The groom is one of our most popular young men. Both have scores of friends who join with the Press in wishing them long, happy lives.

Will Change Hands.

Messrs Ray & Co. have sold the Miller Mills at Repton to Mr. E. C. Moore, and the transfer will be made tomorrow, Oct. 1. This is a splendid little mill, and it has been doing a good business. Under the new arrangement Mr. John Warren Travis will have full control as miller, and will, we learn, also have an interest in the business. Mr. Travis has been employed at the Clark & Kevil mill of Marion, and as a miller he stands second to none in this section of the State. Besides understanding thoroughly all the intricacies of roller milling, Mr. Travis is a good business man, and one that is popular with the people. The new firm will keep the mill in the best of condition at all times, and its patrons may rest assured of obtaining the very best flour, meal and feed-stuff. Mr. Moore is one of the best business men in the county, and with ample capital and an experienced miller, this most excellent mill will grow in popularity.

The Democratic county and precinct committees are called to meet in Marion Monday Oct. 11, county court day. Business of importance to attend to. A full attendance is desired.

L. W. Cruce, Chm'n.

Hand Torn Off.

Friday Mr. Rich Hays, in Livingston county, was grinding apples, using horse power to run the mill. He attempted to take something from the hopper, when his hand was caught in the machinery and all of his fingers were mangled and crushed off.

Tent Meeting.

Rev Willis Brown is having large crowds at his tent meeting near the old water mill. Sunday the big tent was crowded and the best of attention was given the preachers. A number went forward for prayer and others were seeking the healing power.

Miss Mina Wheeler Will Speak.

I will address the people on education in Crittendon county at the following places:

Post Oak, Monday night, Oct. 4. Midway, Tuesday night, Oct. 6.

Dyersburg, Thursday night, Oct. 7. Marion, Monday Oct. 11.

All other candidates are invited to be present, if you wish to address the people a fair division of time will be given you.

Mina Wheeler.

Deeds Recorded.

Sue A. Morris to Samuel Hurst, house and lot for $300.

S. R. Cassidy to Saml. H. Cassidy, house and lot for $1800.

M. C. Aron to C. S. Nunn, land for $90 60.

W. G. Parish to F. M. Wring, 91 acres for $1,050.

Ladies, Attention!

I have employed
Miss Lucy Pointer,
one of the best trimmers from Louisville, and can guarantee you just as good, just fashionable, just as tasty work as you can get in the city.

I have over 500 hats in the house now, also all kinds of pattern hats, and we are now ready for your orders.

Lizzie Franks.

Prettiest Line of Millinery
Goods Ever in Marion.

I have received my fall stock of Hats, Hat Trimmings, and Dress Trimmings, Notions. I think I have the prettiest line I have ever shown, embracing every style and pattern. A beautiful lot of Ribbons, Tips, Feathers and Birds.

On account of the dust, I will have no opening days, but invite you to come now and see my goods.

Lizzie Franks.

Death of A Little Girl.

Pearl, little six year old daughter of Mr. Geo. W. Rice, died at the residence of Mrs. Allen, five miles west of town, Sunday night, of diphtheria. Mr. Rice and his children recently returned from Boone county, where they spent the summer, and the little girl was taken sick a few days after their return. The interment took place at Union Monday evening.

CASTORIA.

FOR SALE—A young mare and a young horse; will sell on time. I also have a young mule to exchange for a good milk cow.

Notice.

It is reported that Mrs. E. M. Boaz has offered me three thousand dollars I wish to say that such reports are positively untrue. She never offered me anything. There was a proposition made to me once by Harry Carnahan, through Judge J. A. Moore, that if would leave her they would give me a farm, two horses, a bed and two hundred and fifty dollars in money, estimated at fifteen hundred dollars, but actually worth nine hundred and fifteen dollars.

STRAYED.

From the Boaz farm, one half mile north of Marion, about ten days ago, my yearling heifer. Is brownish red with white spots; has almost a square white spot in forehead; unmarked. I am confident she is somewhere north of town and will pay for her recovery. She is small of her age, being one-half Jersey. Call on me at the Press office.

Sewing Wanted

I wish to obtain all the sewing, I can do, either plain or fancy. Also all kinds of embroidering I am anxious to obtain work, so I can keep my little children with me.

Mrs. Fannie Champion.

Here is a problem for Uncle Creath Hud-peth: A banker sauntering home to his dinner saw a ten dollar bill on the curbstone. Of course he picked it up and took the numbers in order to find the owner. While at home his wife remarked that the butcher had sent in a bill for meat amounting to $10. The only money he had with him was the bill he had found, which he gave to her and she paid the butcher. The butcher paid it to the farmer for a calf and the farmer paid it to the merchant, who in turn paid it to the washerwoman; and she, owing the banker a note of ten dollars went to the banker and paid her note. The banker recognized the bill as the one he found, and which up to that time had settled fifty dollars of debt. On a more careful examination he found the bill was counterfeit. Now what had been lost in this transaction, if anything, and by whom?"—Merry Ledger.

GETTING READY

Every expectant mother has a trying ordeal to face. If she does not get ready for it,

there is no telling
what may happen.
Child-birth is full of uncertainties if
Nature is not given proper assistance.
Mother's Friend
is the best help you can use at this time.
It is a liniment, and when regularly applied several months before baby comes,
it makes the advent easy and nearly painless. It relieves and prevents "morning sickness," relaxes the overstrained muscles, relieves the distended feeling, shortens labor, makes recovery rapid and certain without any dangerous after-effects.
Mother's friend is good for only one purpose, viz.: to relieve motherhood of danger and pain.

That Chill Never Came Back.
It never will if you use Dr. Bell's Peppermint Chill Tonic.
Where this remedy is used papa's worry about his child is all gone.
Mother's heart is relieved of its sorluminates her countenance. Why?

Because this remedy puts to flight that languid look, that lack of energy, that yellow complexion and gives the child bright eyes, a quick step, and rosy cheeks.

Niagara Falls in full view of several persons in the park.
As she went over the falls the current turned her face towards those on shore and she waved her hand farewell.

R. T. Rushing Dead.
At his home in the Anora neighborhood, surrounded by his family and friends, on the 5th of September R.
T. Rushing passed away. He had been sick some length of time, hence his death was not unexpected.
R. T. Rushing was born in Bedford county, Tennessee, June 22, 1828, came to this country in the fifties, professed faith in Christ and joined the United Brethren church, at Sulphur
Spring, this county, the 2d Saturday in April, 1852, was elected clerk Nov.
1855, lived an exemplary christian and served as clerk when present up to his death. He was liberal with his money and the support of the Gospel.
He leaves a wife and ten children to mourn his loss.
Taking Mr. Rushing's life as it was we would say to the bereaved family and family weep not for Mr. Rushing though he is gone. The same hand that led him through scenes dark and drear has kindly conducted him home and here he rests in peace. Remember that your great loss is his eternal gain.
Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord, henceforth they rest from their labors and their works do follow them.

A New Snake Story
Fort Worth, Tex., Sept. 22.—A cruel snake was captured by two boys near Farmersville. It has two distinct heads, perfectly formed. The tongues protrude from both head and the reptile has two eyes in each head. The points of his head are about one inch apart and about one inch long before they come together.
The snake is spotted and some pronounce it a highland moccasin, and some a chicken snake. It was found in a drift.
IN MEMORY.
Walter Riley, son of Rufus M. and
S. A. Riley, was born April 18, 1891 and died of diphtheria Sept. 19, 1897, and was buried at the Shady Grove cemetery on September 20.
The memory of this child will not only live green in the hearts of those at his bereaved home, but all who knew him will mourn his loss. He was unusually sprightly for his age, and had a most lovable disposition that endeared him to all. And although we feel sure that the loved one has gone to a better land, our hearts go out in sympathy for the sorrowing family.

Your Vitality?
The essence of life is force.
Every breath you breathe, every heart beat, every motion of your hand, takes force. The measure of force we call vitality. If this is lacking, there is loss of flesh, lack of resistive power, a tendency to catch diseases easily, especially a tendency to Consumption. For low vitality nothing is better than Scott's Emulsion. It supplies force by furnishing the nourishing, strengthening elements of food in an easily digested form;
enriches the blood, and builds up the system. When ordinary food is of no avail, Scott's Emulsion will supply the body
with all the vital elements of life.
Two sizes, 50 cts. and $1.00. All druggists.
If you will ask for it we will send you a book telling you all about Scott's Emulsion. Free.
